I. What is this product?

Type: The product is an "over-the-counter" (OTC) Interest Rate Swap (IRS) derivatives contract.

Objectives: An interest rate swap is a contractual agreement between you and Citi Private Bank, under which each party exchanges one stream of cash flows for a second stream of cash flows on a specified amount (the nominal amount) until the termination date. By entering into this fixed for floating interest rate swap (hereinafter the "Swap"), you agree to pay a fixed rate of 0.40 % per annum (the fixed interest rate) in exchange for receipt of a floating rate based on 1-month USD LIBOR plus a spread of 75.00 basis points (0.75 %) per annum (the floating interest rate) on the nominal amount. If the floating interest rate turns negative you will have to pay the fixed interest rate and the absolute value of the floating interest amount. The 1-month USD LIBOR is the average reference rate for 1-month term deposits in the London interbank market (LIBOR = London interbank offered rate), at which banks grant unsecured loans in USD to one another. Neither you nor Citi Private Bank has to pay the nominal amount. The nominal amount will only serve as the basis for the interest rate amounts payable by one party to the other.

Intended retail investor: This product is intended for retail investors with sufficient knowledge and/or experience in these types of products, an ability to bear significant investment loss and a medium term investment horizon.

Term: The termination date of the product is April 3, 2023. The term of the product is 3 years. While the contract itself cannot ordinarily be unilaterally terminated by you or the product manufacturer, the product terms contain provisions that if certain events of default or other termination events occur, you and/or the product manufacturer can terminate the product early. If the product is terminated early, in whole or in part following an event of default or other termination event, an early termination amount will be determined in accordance with the product terms and may become payable by either you or the product manufacturer. The early termination amount is linked to market parameters and could be a substantial loss or gain to you. The return or loss that you may make on such early termination (represented by the early termination amount) is likely to be different from the scenarios described in this document, will be specific to the product and influenced by a number of factors which include but are not limited to: the interest rate movements since the Trade date; the length of time until the termination date, any fees charged by the product manufacturer as a result of the early termination or costs incurred that it may charge to you (for example, the product manufacturer may incur costs in adjusting its hedging arrangement, which will be impacted by market values and other factors, including but not limited to, the availability of equivalent hedge positions and the product manufacturer's funding costs and creditworthiness) and the amount affected by the early termination.

II. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Summary Risk Indicator

Lower Risk < 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 > Higher Risk

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until the end of the recommended holding period (April 3, 2023). You may not be able to end your product early. You may have to pay significant extra costs to end your product early.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a very high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact the capacity of the product manufacturer to pay you. In some circumstances you may be required to make payments to pay for losses. The total loss you may incur may significantly exceed the amount invested. If the product manufacturer is not able to pay you what is owed, you could incur significant losses.

This table shows the money you could get back or pay over the next 3 years, under different scenarios, assuming a nominal value of USD 10,000.00. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. This product cannot be ended easily. This means it is difficult to estimate how much you would get if you end before the end of the recommended holding period. You will either be unable to end early or you will have to pay high costs or make a large loss if you do so. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

III. What happens if Citi Private Bank is unable to pay out?

If the product manufacturer becomes insolvent or otherwise unable to deliver under the product, you should in the worst case be prepared to suffer a total loss of your investment. Your loss would not be covered by any investor compensation or guarantee scheme.

IV. What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the performance of the product. The total costs take into account one-off and ongoing costs. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume a nominal value of USD 10,000.00. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Cost over time

The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time.

Nominal amount USD 10,000.00

Scenarios	If you end after 1 year	If you end after 2 years	If you end at the end of the recommended holding period
