The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product.

This product cannot be cashed in. This means it is difficult to estimate how much you would get back if you cash in before the end of the recommended holding period. You will either be unable to cash in early or you will have to pay high costs or make a large loss if you do so.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, and include the costs of your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

The Fund may make distribution payments, in cash and/or in-kind, to investors. Please refer to the Offering Memorandum and the Fund's articles and memorandum for full details on the distribution and withdrawal processes.

What happens if Citi Private Advisory, LLC is unable to pay out?

You may face a financial loss due to the default of the Fund. These losses are not covered by an investor compensation or guarantee scheme. What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for the recommended holding period and include the costs of your advisor or distributor. They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume you invest €10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Investment Scenarios €10,000	If you cash in after 13 years (recommended)

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

The recommended holding period of the Fund is expected to be 13 years. This term covers the expected investment and divestment periods for the Master Fund's investments. Given that private equity investments should be considered over a medium to long term holding period, investors should be prepared to hold their interest at least until the end of the recommended holding period.

Interests in the Fund are not freely transferable, are not readily tradable on any exchange or market, and there are no redemption or withdrawal rights. As a result, interests must be held on a long-term basis. The investment period shall end on the earlier of (i) 5 years from the final closing of the Master Fund or (ii) such date determined by the Fund Manager when at least 75% of the total commitments have been drawn down, committed or designated for investment or used to pay the Priority Profit Share and expenses of the Master Fund. The term is 10 years from the final closing but may be extended by the Fund Manager for up to two consecutive one-year periods at the Fund Manager's discretion, provided the Fund Manager will consult with the Investors' Committee prior to effecting the second one-year extension. In addition, the term of the Master Fund may be extended by a third consecutive one-year period with the consent of investors holding at least a majority of total commitments.

Any shareholder that fails to make, when due, any portion of the capital contribution to the Fund required to be contributed by such shareholder pursuant to the Fund's shareholder agreement, may in the discretion of the Management Shareholder be subject to the processes and remedies regarding default by a shareholder as described in the Offering Memorandum and shareholder agreement of the Fund and the limited partnership agreement and offering memorandum of the Master Fund.
